Gen. Chaffee's Report Alarms Officials at Washington--Is the Advance Begun?

BIG BATTLE EXPECTED.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—A news agency despatch from Shanghai to-day says a battle is expected Sunday with Gen. Ma's 100,000 Chinese at Yang-Tsun. The Russian and French contingents, according to this despatch, are guarding the communications of the Americans, British and Japanese, who form the advancing column.

A despatch dated at Tientsin, Friday, July 27, says another despatch from Peking, July 21, has been received, duplicating in part one sent by a different route, but adding the military information that the British, American, Russian and German Legations held July 21 provisions barely sufficient for fourteen days and that ammunition was short.

The Ministers had again rejected the proposal of the Chinese Government that they leave Peking under escort of Chinese troops.

Another courier from the Japanese Legation brings a despatch dated July 23, saying that but five days' provisions were left and twenty-five rounds for each man.

The British Consul, Mr. Fraser, and the foreign community are leaving Chung-King, Province of Sze-Chuen, in consequence of an official warning from Shanghai. There is no trouble in Chung-King now or in any part of Sze-Chuen, but disturbances are expected when the allies reach Peking.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Alarming reports are current of dissension among the allied forces at Tientsin.

The despatch from Gen. Chaffee, which the authorities refuse to give out, is said to convey news that things are not going well. He is not only finding difficulty in getting his troops to the front, but cannot get the other commanders to co-operate with him in a quick advance.

It is said here that the advance was to have been begun on Aug. 3, but nothing has been received to show that the main army is moving.

GARDINER NOT TO BE REMOVED.

An intimate friend of Gov. Roosevelt informed the Albany correspondent of The Evening World this afternoon that District-Attorney Gardiner would not be removed.

The Governor, who will announce his decision in two or three days, said to an Evening World correspondent this afternoon:

"All this talk that Gardiner must go is purely imaginative. I have given no ground for it."

COL. ASA BIRD GARDINER.

GOVERNOR SOON TO DECIDE IT.

Gov. Roosevelt said to an Evening World reporter to-day:

"All this talk about Gardiner must go is purely imaginative. I have not yet hinted as to what my decision will be."

"The final report from Commissioner Wilcox was not received by me until to-day. It is unlikely that I shall come to any decision before two or three days."

COL. GARDINER HAS NOT HEARD.

Col. Gardiner said to an Evening World reporter to-day:

"I have heard nothing from Gov. Roosevelt to the effect that I am to be removed from office."

"I have no comment to make regarding rumors to that effect."

"Until I hear from Gov. Roosevelt I will have nothing to say."

ETHELBERT WON CUP AND BROKE RECORD.

BRIGHTON BEACH RACE TRACK, Aug. 4.—There were only four starters for the Brighton Cup. They were Ethelbert Imp, Sidney Lucas and Herbert. Ethelbert was a strong favorite. The 1 to 2 quoted at the opening was eagerly snapped up. Sidney Lucas was strongly played. Imp went up in the betting from 6 to 1 to 10 to 1, and at that price the race was won.

The race fell with good old Imp in front. Imp increased her lead to six lengths from Ethelbert who was two in front of Herbert, and Sidney Lucas trailing. They held this order going by the stand the second time. Then the tail-enders began to close on Ethelbert, but Imp was still lengths in the lead. Half a mile from the finish Sidney Lucas was third, but beaten.

Ethelbert won, her time was record and Sidney Lucas was third. The time 9:40 1-5, establishing a new record for the distance, and setting the best of the season record held by Eagle, 9:50 1-5, in 1899.

OUR YACHT TURNS THE TABLES.

DORVAL, Quebec, Aug. 4.—The American yacht Minnesota led the second round of the international race for the Seawanhauk Cup. She defeated at 4:13:10, Red Coat, the Canadian boat, at 4:32. Minnesota led from the start, constantly increasing the distance.

A mile from the finish the wind fell to a flat calm. The race was pulled off, the time limit having expired.

RESULTS OF CYCLE RACES AT THE BEACH.

MANHATTAN BEACH CYCLO TRACK, Aug. 4.—F. R. Freeman of Portland, Ore., won the one-mile handicap championship. He was second and Frank L. Kramer third. Time 3:24.5s.

The five-mile professional handicap was won by Earl Kiser (catcher). Bob Watson (50 yards), 2nd; A. N. Brown (50 yards), 3rd; Fred Tins (250 yards), 4th. Time 1:00.23.2s.

W. K. VANDERBILT TO HAVE A RACING STABLE HERE.

News comes from London to-day that W. K. Vanderbilt is purchasing an extensive racing stable. It is his intention to race these horses in America.

Mr. Vanderbilt's decision to take this step has been arrived at only after a long and careful consideration, but his love for the sport at last overcame all other elements.

He will be a notable addition to the millionaire racing men and can be depended upon to give to the turf the best that money can purchase or produce.

Mr. Vanderbilt bought ten or twelve mares from Pierre Lorillard and he is the owner of a thoroughbred stud in France.

He has occasionally raced in England, but never here, though he owns a controlling interest in the Coney Island Jockey Club.

He will be the first of the house of Vanderbilt to go into racing. The old Commodore was a lover of blooded horseflesh, but his enthusiasm was all for trotters.

The friends of Mr. Vanderbilt say that he would have been an active and wholesome element in American racing long ago but for fear of newspaper criticism.

Breeders and trainers will watch his advent here with a great deal of interest. He is a thorough sportsman and will vie with Whitney, Belmont and Keene in sending out for honors horses which will make sensational performances and give to the sport of kings an impetus of which the great race-going public will be the gainers.

HORSE DASHED INTO CAR.

Runaway from Fire Headquarters Killed as it Struck Brooklyn Trolley.

A runaway horse from Fire Headquarters on Jay, near Willoughby street, Brooklyn, dashed into a Third Avenue car, at Fulton and Jay streets, at noon to-day, and was killed. There were few passengers on the car, and none of them was hurt.

The horse had lately been purchased for the department, and was on the ground floor of Headquarters, part of which is used for a fire company. The arrival was hitched to a light wagon eating from a feed bag, when a scrub woman shouted and frightened it. Samuel Love, who drove the horse, tried to stop it and was knocked down and run over, but not seriously injured. The horse ran up the street and was killed instantly as it ran into the trolley.

EMPRESS FREDERICK DYING.

Queen's Eldest Daughter Afflicted with Cancer—Specialists Say She Cannot Live Long.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Notwithstanding the denial issued from Berlin, it is quite certain that Empress Frederick, the Queen's eldest and most beloved daughter, is afflicted with cancer, and that great specialists consider her life a matter of months.

She is too ill to leave the Castle at Friedrichshof, near Homburg, for her customary summer visit to England. Queen Victoria, knowing her desire to possess an English home, gave her the White Lodge at Richmond last year, but she will probably never be able to occupy it.

Premier Silvela Decides to Punish Anarchists with Severity.

Shah's Assailant Confesses He Tried to Kill Casimir-Perier.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—A despatch from Madrid says the Spanish Premier, Senor Silvela, intends to take the initiative looking towards an international conference for the suppression of Anarchists, and that the Spanish Government has decided to apply rigorously the laws against Anarchy.

ASSASSIN HIS TRADE.

PARIS, Aug. 4.—The entire history of Francois Salson, the would-be assassin of the Shah of Persia, is cleared up. Salson's army record was most exemplary and he was promoted for soldierly qualities. After the death of his father he resigned from the army and began a roving life.

During the inquiry Salson related that he once made an effort to assassinate the former President of the French Republic, M. Casimir-Perier. He hid in the shrubbery beside the road M. Casimir-Perier was accustomed to take in his daily walks, and when the latter passed, Salson says, he attempted to shoot him with a pistol. The weapon, however, misfired, and no one perceived his presence.

Salson's hatred of M. Casimir-Perier, he asserted, was due to the latter's laws against anarchists.

He admitted that he pulled the trigger of his pistol at the time of his attack upon the Shah, but in this case again the weapon missed fire.

Salson explained that, hoping to insure the explosion of the cartridge, he had fired the pistol at the hammer. This saved the Shah's life, as the hammer had been fired too much, and the pulling of the trigger only resulted in making a small dent on the cartridge.

Salson's last employer states that he was a model workman, that he never discussed politics, but that one day he astonished his companions by saying: "Why should we work? Thus we enrich others and only gain a livelihood. Would it not be better to return to the state of nature when men lived, happy and idle, on 's and game'?"

NOTORIOUS PATERSON REDS

To prevent a wholesale exodus of Anarchist suspects from Paterson the city is swarming with detectives. The work of these men has brought to light the fact that the leaders of the Paterson group are men of international notoriety as Anarchist leaders.

Count Malatesta, who was invited there from London a year ago to edit La Question Sociale, is under the ban in every country on the continent except London. While in Paterson he lived with Pietro Esteve, a Spaniard whom he had met in Barcelona while he was instigating the bread riots. Esteve was a friend of Angiolillo, the assassin of Premier Canovas.

When Angiolillo lived in Naples he was a roommate of Bresci, Franz Widmar, the editor of La Question Sociale, was arrested in Austria for complicity in the assassination of the Emperor Elizabeth. He was released for lack of evidence and exited. These men Malatesta made leaders of the group in Paterson.

The murder of Giuseppe ePasina by the suicide Sperandio, who confessed that he had been chosen to kill the King, is thought to have been part of the general plot of assassination, and the Anarchist fear arrests will follow for that crime. The incarceration of members of the group is feared will lead to one of their number turning State's evidence and the revelation of the whole ghastly plot.

Of Count Malatesta, now in hiding in London, it was learned that direct devotion to him went so far that he risked his own life to save him from a murderous bullet. Pasasina, a Russian Anarchist, quarreling with the leader and fired on him. Bresci threw himself in the would-be assassin and saved Malatesta's life.

After that Malatesta called Bresci his savior and the latter's return for the assassination was a life-long devotion.
